Directed by action anthropologist Christoph Borkowsky Akbar, PIRANHA Musik has been swimming among the sharks of the music industry since 1987. The Berlin based independent label and music publisher is one of the leading international producers of global-centric music. With more than 100 releases so far it became a tastemaker brand to make you travel with your ears, introducing local stars as well as insider and top tips from Africa, the Orient, Europe, or the Americas to a worldwide, off-mainstream audience. Diversity rules, the world is our culture.

To celebrate 20 years of PIRANHA in 2007, each month we will release a fresh musical choice - reloading highlights and hidden gems from our repertoire. Each selection is compiled by one of the worldwide DJ-friends of PIRANHA. Beware!, sequencing is important - you can just listen for your pleasure or download the whole thing straight away.

JUBILEE Vol 4. features DJ Fabian Alsultany, founder of GlobeSonic Sound System in New York. Dubbed by Billboard Magazine as the 'world music impresario', he is a DJ/magician, concert producer, visionary and entrepreneur and has brought the evolving sounds of global electronica to audiences around the world. He has produced, compiled, conceived and guided the creation of countless world music albums and concerts since the early-90's, launched the live events division for Putumayo World Music and represented music industry legend Chris Blackwell (Bob Marley/U2) as Director of A&R and Festivals at Palm Pictures. Alsultany is currently focused on his company GlobeSonic Entertainment. More info at www.globesonic.com
For Latin Oriental, DJ Fabian Alsultany unites the East with the South in a PIRANHA mix reaching from New York to Nubia, from Cairo to Cuba and from Israel to the Balkans including Frank London's Klezmer Brass Allstars, Fanfare Ciocarlia, Maurice El Médioni, Eddie Bobé, Ali Hasan Kuban, Emil Zrihan and more.
